Practical Politics in summing up the work of some of the more prominent members of the lower branch of the legislature has this to say of Rep. John N. Cole of Andover:

"When it comes to summing up the first year men of mark of this legislature Pingree of Haverhill and Cole of Andover come quickly to the mind. Cole, perhaps, has been the more prominent
tion gas bill, which cleans up the matter very acceptably, is owing in large part to his efforts. He spoke for it on the floor with considerable brilliancy and skill. In a local way his campaign for street railway waiting rooms was well fought throughout, and against an original adverse report from the committee which considered the matter. On his return, Cole is a likely possibility as chairman of the committee on public lighting, a decided honor for a second year man and one that would be especially important to his local district.

Catarrh

Is a constitutional disease.

It originates in a scrofulous condition of the blood and depends on that condition.

It often causes headache and dizziness, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, affects the vocal organs, disturbs the stomach, it is always radically and permanently cured by the blood-purifying, alterative and tonic action of

Hood's Sarsaparilla

This great medicine has wrought the most wonderful cures of all diseases depending on scrofula or the scrofulous habit.

HOOD'S PILLS are the best cathartic.

Obituary

MRS. HANNAH (BARRON) HIGGINS

Mrs. Hannah (Barron) Higgins, wife of Archibald Higgins, died last Saturday morning at her home, 38 Nichols street, Lowell, at the age of 62 years.

The deceased was born in Andover in 1841. She came to Ballardvale when quite young and lived here until she removed to Lowell, where she has resided for the last 30 years. She was a frequent visitor to our own village, where her cheery manner always brought joy and sunshine to her relatives and many friends. She always bore an upright character and always had a large circle of friends wherever she went. July 3, 1861, she married Archibald Higgins, and their home has always been a model happy one.

She was a great sufferer during her last illness of three months and her remarkable patience and submission to the Divine will were indeed a source of inspiration to all those that came in contact with her. The funeral was held at her late home Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. R. A. Greene of the Second Universalist church, Lowell, officiated. The floral tributes were very beautiful.

Interment last Tuesday in the Episcopal cemetery, Andover.

So you have decided to get another physician.

I have, answered Mrs. Cumrox. The idea of his prescribing flaxseed tea and mustard plasters for people as rich as we are!—Washington Star.

Have You Had the Grip?

If so, and you are going to take a Spring medicine, why not get the latest and best tonic that medical science has produced? Dr. Parker's Tonic Tablets are the very latest production of medical science.

A box of 50 tablets will cost you only 50 cents, while your doctor would charge you one dollar for advice alone, and he could not write any such prescription. If you are seriously ill you go to Boston; if very seriously ill, to New York; because the most eminent physicians are in the large cities, and Tonic Tablets are the prescription of New York's most eminent physician, and he would charge $25 for consultation alone. We are offering you his prescription in Tonic Tablets for 50 cents. They are full of life and vigor, and will restore the bloom to your cheeks, the spring to your step, build up your digestion and increase the red corpuscles which are the life of the blood.

They will quicken your circulation, send new blood bounding through every vein, strengthen your nerves, lighten your burden, and dispel the gloom and melancholia that cloud your daily life.

Each box contains 50 Tonic Tablets for Body, Blood and Nerves, and a small box of Liveroid Tablets for Liver and Bowels. 50 cents a box, or 6 boxes for $2.50. At all druggists, or The Dr. Parker Medicine Co., 51-53 Exchange St., Portland, Me., U. S. A.

FOR ABATEMENT OF THEIR TAXES.

The petitions for abatement of taxes were considered by the county commissioners at a hearing held in North Andover Tuesday morning.

At the last hearing held on June 19th, Mrs. Mary H. Sutton was excused as a witness because of sudden illness, but she resumed the stand at the hearing Tuesday. The hearing was opened at 9.15 o'clock in the office of the Newton P. Frye, who appears for the petitioners in the cases.

Mrs. Sutton was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Scoville, and the latter's husband, making the tandem witness was subjected to cross-examination by the county commissioners.

The cases of Mrs. Sutton and her husband, which covered practically the same ground covered at the former hearing. She was dismissed after being on the stand for over an hour.

James Manion was then called as a witness. He testified that he had been at Hill Crest for the last ten years, where he is employed as a coxswain by Mrs. Sutton. He is also the caretaker of the place during Mrs. Sutton's absence in the winter. After a brief examination he was dismissed.

Edward W. Greene was the next witness on the stand. He was a member of the assessors of the year 1901. He testified that he had visited Hill Crest about the first of May on the above year, in an official capacity. He found the coxswain there and the place closed.

Without further proceeding Major Winn moved the board that the case of Mary H. Sutton for the year 1901 be dismissed and offered as an argument the nothing was done.

The board was of a unanimous opinion that there was a change of domicile up to the year 1902, and the petition was dismissed. By agreement of counsel the petition of Mrs. Caroline E. Davis was withdrawn. Her physician refused to allow her to appear in court.

The next hearing on the remaining petitions will be held on Friday July 10th.

SHORTAGE WAS A LARGE ONE.

At the meeting Sunday evening of the members of the Street Railway Employees Relief association at Caldwell hall action was taken on the alleged shortage of the treasury. Members from this city, and Haverhill attended. The shortage was acknowledged to be in the vicinity of $1000, and a committee was selected with full power to act in the matter and to settle up the affair amicably. It was stated this morning to a Telegram reporter that suitable restitution would be made to the association. John M. Boies resigned his position as treasurer of the association, which position he had held for about eight years. E. S. Mitchell of Haverhill was elected to the office. The meeting was a lengthy one and adjourned only at 3 o'clock in the morning.

THE HORSELESS STAGE.

"A horse!" shouts Kit Marlowe, who has consented to enact Richard III. at a benefit performance for William Shakespeare. "A horse, a horse! Meh kingdom for a horse!"

Here old Mother Shipton, who occupies one of the boxes, leans over the railing and calls.

"Send me some time ago predict that ere long we should see the horseless stage of the world."

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous services.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

BIG ENGINE OUT OF REPAIR.

The regular monthly meeting of the water board held Tuesday morning President Desmond was in the chair and the other members present were Messrs. Arundel and Donovan.

The matter of repairing the pumping engine was brought up. At the request of Supt. Collins a representative of the J. P. Morris company, maker of the engine, came to Lawrence recently and made a thorough examination. In his report he says:

"The cylinder is cracked 15 inches in length on one side where the 1 1/2 in. wrought iron steam jacket pipe is screwed into the jacket of the cylinder and extends all along the edge of the supporting bracket and about two inches and three inches above the same."

"The engine bed has settled on the same side of the engine and one of the columns is cracked at the base at one side, and the bed plate is also cracked."

"Every time the engine makes a revolution there is motion in the bed, which is transformed to the cylinder and enlargement. This constant motion or strain continuing after the cylinder has been in use since 1877 would be sufficient to cause the casting to break, as it is a well known fact that cast iron after being in use for a number of years gets tired and thus breaks more readily."

The board voted to inspect the engine at a meeting to be called by the president.

The board voted to grant the request of the Beach Soap company that a hydrant be placed at the corner of Pleasant and Main street. This will necessitate laying about 2000 feet of pipe.

After approving the monthly bills the board adjourned.

SUICIDE IDENTIFIED.

The young man who committed suicide at Salem, N. H., Friday afternoon by shooting himself in the chest, above the left ear, has been identified as James H. Kelley of Salem, Mass., and the body has been taken to Salem for burial.

Kelly was a resident of Salem, was about 25 years of age, resided at 4 Pearl street, where he and his family had but recently moved, and was employed for the past several years by Cobb, Bates and Yerxa Co. as a driver of one of the delivery wagons.

He had been in ill health for some time, and the physician attending him stated that he had worked upon his nerves for the past few months. A week ago yesterday he broke down and remained away from the store until last Monday.

Upon appearing for work upon Monday the manager noticed how poorly he looked and sent him home to take a few days' more rest.

Kelly was looking better Thursday night, when a fellow employee called but was dreadfully blue. Friday noon he left home stating that he was going out to get shaved and that was the last heard of him until the news was broken to his wife.

It is presumed that Kelly, after leaving his home, suddenly determined to make way with himself, and either boarding a Lawrence electric or a train, was carried to the little town of Salem, N. H., where, while walking along the country road, he ended his earthly career by sending a bullet into his brain.

Mr. Silsby, his employer, spoke in the highest terms of praise of Mr. Kelly, and stated that he was a good, upright, honest young man and a faithful worker.

Mr. Kelly was 25 years old and leaves a widow and one child.

FOR CHURCH IMPROVEMENTS

The congregation of the Lawrence street church raised a large sum Sunday by subscription, the sum of $977 being pledged at the morning service, for the repair of the church building. Only a few members of the congregation knew in advance that such action was thought of. The plan was described by the pastor, Mr. Wokott, and Judge A. C. Stone made a statement in behalf of the assessors. Subscription blanks were then distributed with the result mentioned.

The improvements contemplated are connected chiefly with the vestry. The committee hope that gifts from those not present yesterday morning will increase the total to at least $1500.

All of our gingham remnants marked down to 12 1/2 cents. Special value at Farr's Remnant Store, 9 Lawrence street, Lawrence.

CHILDREN'S DAY AT THE COUNTRY CLUB.

One of the prettiest events yet held at the Country club grounds was that Monday when the members' children all ranging from two years or so, up to 14 years, were given an entertainment and banquet.

Prof. Reed who is at present visiting at the Johnson residence in Methuen, was engaged and entertained the little ones and in fact their elders, by exhibiting his dogs in their tricks, for which they are noted all over the country. The children were highly pleased and many of the younger girls were handed together and gave a very pretty May Pole Dance. Their pretty white dresses, wreaths and baskets of flowers made a very pretty scene as they danced around their queen, Frances MacDonald, who was seated on her throne surrounded by her attendants, Virginia Musk, Catherine Twiss, Marion Brown, Mildred Grimes, Julia Sherman, Alice Sweeney, Lydia Greenwood, Cornelia Sargent, Marion Gould, Lucy Cheney, Agnes Grant, Helen Biery, Lillian Walworth, Anna Wyde, Louise and Mary Sweeney, Emma Gould, Irene Colby, Marion Butler, Irene Biery, Helen Yeaw, Charlotte and Catherine Gowing, Harriet Farridge, Norah Sweeney and Gertrude Butler.

The children were then invited to partake of five well filled tables of dainty refreshments. At each plate, being a box of candy. About 100 children were looked after by the ladies in charge and after partaking of the lunch they encircled three daintily decorated tubs and were each allowed to take a parcel out of the tubs, which was found to contain a prize. These gifts were very pleasing to the children and they all strolled about the spacious grounds exhibiting their prizes and playing games while Edney's orchestra of Haverhill, dispensed sweet music from the west veranda, where it was stationed.

The final amusement was when Dr. Kennedy and Lawyer Dow allowed the balloon to ascend. Just then Professor Rain, whose arrival had been looked for all afternoon put in his appearance and the children, who did not greet him very kindly, then quickly dispersed for their homes, many in carriages while others went by electric, all happy.

The committee of ladies who arranged for the enjoyment of the little ones were Mesdames Sweeney, Gabeler, Sargent, Dow, Russell, Gowing, Walworth, Nickerson, MacDonald, Sugart, Winlow, and Currier. They were kindly assisted by Dr. Kennedy, Dr. Dow, Dr. Sargent, Lawyers Dow, Sweeney, Eaton and E. N. Winslow and Louis Norton.

Among the young ladies seen on the grounds were Misses Walworth, Isabel Herrick, Marion Crawford, Gussie Cheney, Miss Schneider, Alice Moore, Catherine Herrick, Cara Crawford, Mrs. Louis Cox, Mrs. Thomas Sullivan.

The young ladies presiding over the lemonade table were Misses "Cara Crawford, Alice Cheney, Marion Crawford."

Among the many children present were:

Romona Bell, James Bannan, Frances Bannan, Irene Biery, Bessie Biery, Needham Brown, Joseph Brown, Guy Currier, Ethel Coby, Mildred Coby, Cornelia Crawford, Lucy Cheney, Edward Dow, Harry Dow, James Eaton, Garrison Holt, Rudolph Holt, Emma Gould, Marion Gould, Charles Gowing, Catherine Gowing, Agnes Grant, Harold Gabeler, Charles Gabeler, Earl Gabeler, Mildred Grimes, Gertrude Grimes, George Kennedy, Harold Kitchin, Donald Kitchin, Madeline Koffman, Walter Lord, Herbert Lord, Raymond Lord, Bradley Mahoney, Charles Mahoney, Helen Macartney, George Musk, Virginia Musk, Earl Miller, Paul Miller, Cornelia McGowan, Milton McDonald, Donald Norwood, Kenneth Norwood, Merrill Norwood, Leslie Porter, Gertrude Porter, Walter Rutter, Louise Sweeney, Mary Sweeney, Norah Sweeney, Alice Sweeney, Arthur Sweeney, James Seldon, Catherine Seldon, Marion Seldon, Edward Seldon, Frances Shattuck, Julia Sherman, Cornelia Sargent, Clifton Sugart, Richard Sugart, Paul Earle, Oliver Wyde, Russell Wyde, Paul Wyde, Beatrice Twiss, Catherine Twiss, Margaret Walworth, Joseph Walworth, Lillian Walworth, Anna Wyde, Albert Wyde, also a 4-year-old little miss from Leeds, England, Marjorie Watson, who was dressed prettily and attractively in green and white. Misses Helen and Marion Yeaw of South Orange, N. J., numbered also among the daintily dressed tots.

PRESENTATION TO FR. MORAN.

Wednesday evening in the Augustinian residence on Haverhill street, the altar boys presented Rev. Fr. Moran with a beautiful set of Thad's works as a token of their esteem for him and regret of his departure from among them. Also in appreciation of the many kindnesses shown the boys, by him and also the interest he took in them, as he did in every circle of members of St. Augustine parish. Fr. Moran, who was at the altar, carried out John P. Mulholland made a very sincere little speech in which he thanked Father Moran for all he had done in making the altar boys of St. Mary's church as strong as they are today and in disciplining them. He departed for his new field of labor and was accompanied to Boston by John P. Mulholland.

Among the altar boys regretting their loss are: Joseph Mahoney, Chas. Mahoney, A. Shea, Jos. Shea, Jos. Trull, E. Nyhan, J. A. O'Brien, A. O'Brien, Henry Hart, W. Duggan, E. Duggan, J. GODDU FAMILY ONCE LIVED HERE.

Georgiana Goddu, who was murdered in Lowell by Lamotte, was formerly a resident of this city, being connected with the Metallic Fastener company which formerly had a shop in the Standley shop.

Mr. Goddu's brother, the uncle of the dead girl, was the inventor of the fastener. The business was conducted here for some ten years, and was removed to Winchester about eight years ago. The father is well known by many of the residents here, and the daughters are also well known, having been here often. It is not known that the family ever made their home here. For the father boarded here, while the family lived in Boston. The name was usually written Goodhue, and it is by that name the father is best known here.

VERY REMARKABLE CURE OF DIARRHOEA.

"About six years ago for the first time in my life I had a sudden and severe attack of diarrhoea," says Mrs. Alice Miller, of Morgan, Texas. "I got temporary relief, but it came back again and again, and for six long years I have suffered more misery and agony than I can tell. It was worse than death. My husband spent hundreds of dollars for physicians' prescriptions and treatment without avail. Finally we moved to Bosque County, our present home, and one day I happened to see an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with a testimonial of a man who had been cured by it. The case was so similar to my own that I concluded to try the remedy. The result was wonderful. I could hardly realize that I was well again, or believe it could be so after having suffered so long, but that one bottle of medicine, costing but a few cents, cured me." For sale by E. M. & W. A. FRIDAY, JULY 3, 1903.

A Decade as a Legislator.

A decade, and one year extra for full measure; that is the record, to be accurate, of one of the most faithful legislators Massachusetts has ever known, and it is a record worthy of more than passing notice.

For eleven years James J. Myers, of Cambridge, has been growing in the public service of the Commonwealth, and as the session of 1903 closes and he lays down that particular work in which he has so long been active he reaches to the highest place he has ever held, in the appreciative summing up of his long service. And it is thus made the highest place because the expression is universal that higher honors must be bestowed upon one who has so well won them.

It will not be easy for the people of Massachusetts to think of another as "Speaker", nor will it be easy for the honorable gentleman himself to lay aside the life he has so well lived. It is doubtful if within the memory of any Massachusetts citizen there has been a speaker of the legislature who has made himself so vitally a part of the body over which he presided as has speaker Myers. There have been sterner men, there have been men who ruled and led more effectively than he has, there may have been greater men, but has there ever been another who could say after his work was ended, with universal approval, "I cannot say I wish I had been fairer, for I have been as fair as I knew how to be?"

The state suffers a distinct loss in the passing from such an important position a man like speaker Myers. If he shall do no further labor in the public service he has well earned a high place in the ranks of Massachusetts official life. If the opportunity shall come for further work, he will find that men are not forgotten when their part has been so well done as he has done his.

Editorial Cinders.

The last echo of the Andover school life is heard this week in the publication of the public school graduates, and the brief story of the principal closing exercises. Last of mention, but by no means least in importance, are the public schools, and as each year's progress is marked up on the record those who are in close touch with the work done in Andover schools have a proper pride in all that has been accomplished. It is a matter for regret, however, that so few, comparatively, of our citizens have any real knowledge of what is actually done in our public schools, estimating results solely from the annual March appropriations, with a complete ignoring of the June exhibition, of what all the money has done for the youth of the town. The truth is, there has been during the last decade a big advance in the work of Andover public schools, and it is still going on. Some facts have undoubtedly crept in, but more and more the sane, reasonable, and worthy methods are being used. Andover public schools were never in better shape than today, and the promise was never fuller for well educated boys and girls than it is today. It has been a big congratulatory handshake all along the line in scholastic Andover this year, but the last grip of congratulation is best of all, for it is on account of the laying of the right foundation for all the others.

The retirement of John Saunders, after nearly twenty years of faithful and responsible service with the Smith and Dove Manufacturing Company, marks the passing of another honored citizen to less active labor. He leaves his active work not only with the good wishes of the officials of the Company and the highest respect of the many employees, but also with the cordial desire of many town friends that the passing days be to him most happy and peaceful. May the fishing rod never grow weary, and may the pen, that has delighted our readers occasionally, find time to flow with more frequent contributions.

They are going to have an "Old Home Week" celebration up in Methuen. It might well pay us here in Andover to observe carefully the results in our neighboring town for a similar observance in Andover another year. It will be an affair that "pays" if the old residents return, and the wandering sons and daughters come back to renew their old acquaintances.

One of the best things about the Phillips honor list each term, is the large number of Andover boys who are found upon it. We have no recollection of any list in which the Andover boys have not led and seemingly in a larger percentage than their attendance would naturally warrant.

DROWNED IN FOSTER'S

Body of Colored Man Found by Local Authorities, Wednesday.

Chief of Police Frye and Special Officer Gledhill spent all day Monday dredging Foster's pond for the body of a colored man supposed to have been drowned there last week, but were unable to find any trace of the remains. The full name of the supposed victim is not known to the police. He was familiarly known as "Pete" and had charge of a camp owned by Boston parties. The police were notified Monday that he had been missing for several days. Persons who went to the camp found it open. The boat was anchored a little way from shore and a fish pole was floating in the grass near by. It is supposed that the man fell overboard while he was fishing. He was a good swimmer and must have been seized with a cramp or he would have been able to either get back into the boat or swim ashore. Chief Frye dredged the bottom of the pond thoroughly over an area of 50 yards in the vicinity of the boat and fish pole and finally decided that it was useless to search further. Wednesday evening, however, he received word that a party of Reading young men, who were fishing in the pond, had discovered the body. Undertaker Messer was notified and he removed the body to his undertaking rooms on Park street. Thursday morning the remains were viewed by Medical Examiner Dow, who pronounced death due to drowning.

Mystery shrouds the man's death, for while it is presumed that he fell from a boat while fishing, as a boat was found anchored off shore with a fish pole floating nearby, he was an expert swimmer and unless he met with some mishap should have been able to reach shore, which was only a short distance away.

The owners of the camp have arranged to have the body buried in Andover. The police have been unable as yet to find any relatives of the dead man. His wife died some years ago. His name was William H. Samuels.

Children's Service at Episcopal

A very pretty and interesting service was held in the Christ church, last Sunday, at the last session of the Sunday school for the summer.

The service opened with a hymn by the school, followed by a song by the kindergarten.

Hymn, Responsive Reading, Psalm 84. Lesson, Hymn 491. Apostles' Creed. Prayer. Hymn 344.

In his address to the Sunday School, Mr. Brooks said that he should have to divide the school into two or three parts, and he would begin with the largest and come down to the smallest, and he first addressed the parents.

"The time is coming," he said, "when the Sunday school will be of much greater importance than it is at present. The Sunday schools of the Episcopal church are much in advance of those of other churches, as far as I am cognizant, yet in no other organization is the children's department harder to look after. In education the children have the best of care, but in Sunday school it is much harder. Mothers, consider it a privilege as well as a duty to bring the life of Christ to the heart of the child."

Mr. Brooks then spoke a few words to the Sunday school teachers, saying that he knew all their difficulties and that he had been through them all. The best way to reach the children was to get the aid of the parents. The only way they could away the children was by moral influence, as there were no rules and there should be none.

In closing to the teachers, he said that they should not go home discouraged if the whole lesson was not finished, but that they should be amply satisfied if the children went home with one word of inspiration which would help them through the week.

"And now, boys," he said, "I know it is hard to come to Sunday school, I know it is hard to be with those horrid girls, but there is a dignity to it, and a boy's life is just as strong and fine and good for his having gone to Sunday school. This church depends upon you boys to support it when these men who sit here every Sunday are gone and you are grown up, and it belongs to you to keep the church true. Now every lesson adds you in the preparation for this, and you must make the Sunday school a place to which you like to come and not one to which you must come."

After Mr. Brooks' address, silver badges were given to those of the school who had been perfect in attendance for the last half year, and gold stars to those who have had perfect attendance for the last two half years.

The session closed with a hymn and benediction.

The scholars who received gold stars were: Florence McCreadie, Isabella Killackey, Elsie Gleason, Harry Hilton, David Warden, Mabel Vescott, Fred Wescott, Everett Wainock, Harry Sellers, Wm. McCreadie, Wm. Sellers, Clifford Wrigley, Florence Collins.

The silver stars were as follows: Bertha Judge, Roy Rhodes, Everett Collins, Hattie Chapman, George Collins, Merrill Boynton, Blanchard Ralph, Lindsey Ralph.

Exposition Notes.

The Merchants and Manufacturers Exposition at Mechanics' building in Boston, next October, certainly bids fair to be a thumping success, for already fully one-fourth of the floor space has been preempted by exhibitors and the committee in charge of the big fair have arranged for all manner of entertainment. An air ship, balloon ascension, liquid air experiments, a grand cosmopolitan midway plianance and countless other novel features, together with Creators and Sousa bands, are spoken of as attractions at the Exposition.

Jim Key, the world famous trick horse, said to be the most wonderful and the most intelligent equine in the world, comes to Boston again this year, as one of the features of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Exposition to be held in Mechanics' building next October.

"The biggest fair that Boston has ever seen" is promised next October at Mechanics' building on the occasion of the Second Triennial Exposition of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association. Every industrial center in this country and Canada and every line of industry bids fair to be represented, and judging by the energy and money that are being expended in preparation for the event there is every reason to presume that it will be a stupendous success.

Wedding.

WILBUR-TROTT.

Carleton Francis Wilbur, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilbur of Newton, formerly of Andover, and Miss Mabel Eileen Trott of Taunton, were married Thursday evening, June 25, at a pretty home wedding which took place at the residence of the parents of the groom, 100 Galen street, Newton.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Frank R. Shipman of the South church. The bride was attended by Miss Lena Gifford of Taunton, a cousin of the bridegroom, and Alexander Dundas of Moosup, Conn., was best man. The bride wore a handsome gown of white muslin over white silk and she carried a bouquet of white roses. The ushers were Miss Florence Pratt and Miss Edith Trott of Taunton.

The parlors were very prettily decorated for the occasion. Lohengrin's wedding march was played on the piano by Mrs. Willis G. Parmelee of Newton Centre and after the ceremony Mendelssohn's march was played on the violin by Misses Alice and Charlotte Cox, accompanied by Mrs. Parmelee. During the reception that followed the Misses Cox rendered several duets.

An excellent wedding luncheon was served during the evening. Guests were present at the reception from Calais, Me., Boston, Taunton, Providence, Andover, Lawrence and many other places.

The couple received many valuable wedding gifts, including an upright piano from the grandmother of the bridegroom and a substantial check from his uncle. They will reside in Fitchburg, where Mr. Wilbur is employed by the American Woolen company.

Mr. Wilbur is well known in Andover, where he had made his home until within a few years. The bride is one of Taunton's most popular young women.

Snyder of St. Paul's school, Garden City, will take the place of Mr. Estey, who is in England this summer; and John L. Phillips of the Academy, will have charge of the Latin, instead of Mr. Jacobus.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Closing Exercises and List of Graduates—Changes in the Punched Staff.

The closing exercises of the public schools terminated a very successful year, for scholars, teachers and superintendent. At the principal schools in town, programs of essays, recitations and songs were given in a highly creditable manner. The Stowe school had a large number of graduates, there being forty-two in all. There were twelve from the Bradlee school and two each from the West Centre and Osgood schools.

Stowe School

The following was the program at the Stowe school under Miss Anna Chase, principal.

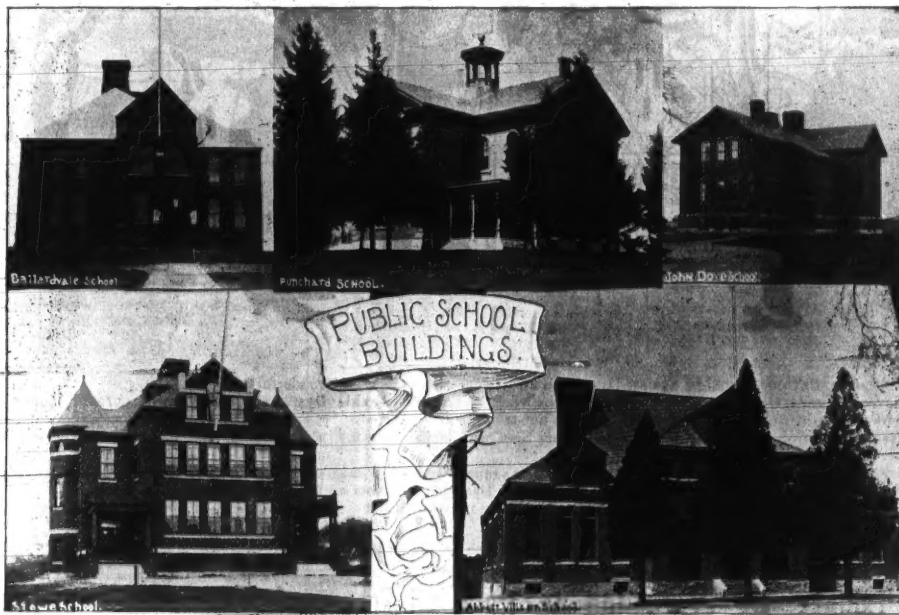

New Teachers at Punched

As S. H. Baker, acting principal of the Punched School, and several of the assistants declined a re-election, it became necessary to secure others to take their places.

Mr. Geo. F. Kenney, for several years principal of the high school at Plymouth, this state, who had been unanimously elected to the principalship of Punched by the trustees and school committee, has declined. The committee at Plymouth has increased Mr. Kenney's salary and offered him other inducements to remain.

Misses Brooks, Burr and Brown of the old faculty, will continue in their present positions. The new teachers are:

BASEBALL

Last Saturday afternoon on the P. A. campus the Andovers and the Unions two local organizations crossed bats in one of the closest and best played games ever presented by local teams. As there is great rivalry between the teams a good crowd was present to witness the contest and both teams had good support from the rooters. The Andovers which is the older organization with some old time players on it, were victorious by a small margin, the score being 3 to 1. Both pitchers were effective and with a few exceptions were well supported. Score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Andover	0	0	0	2	1	0	0	0	3
Unions	0	0	0	0	0	1	1	0	2

The Andovers and the Unions will play their second game tomorrow morning on the P. A. campus and a hard battle is expected as there is great rivalry between the teams.

Choir Boys' Sports Schedule.

The choir boys of the Christ church are now playing a championship series of ten games among themselves. The nine which wins six may claim that honor. The contest will be very close. After the baseball season, they will start two cricket teams, being kindly allowed the use of the local ground, and, in the fall, football teams will be organized. The choir itself is now in excellent training and is one of the best in the state. It is composed of thirty boys and about fourteen men.

Abbot Academy, Andover, Mass.

The following from the Hull Beacon will be of local interest.

After the John Adams clam bake at D. O. Wade's the 19th, I returned to Boston on the large, commodious steamer, Harlem, and went to Danvers with Mr. and Mrs. Masury. What a beautiful town that is! I did so enjoy the flowering plants and the shrubbery. Our state regent has a grand colonial home in that town. She has just inherited the home of her childhood, her father having recently passed to the great unknown. He was a flourishing shoe manufacturing dealer, and did business with my father. I knew him well, and always enjoyed conversing with him. He and his wife, Mrs. Fellows, were up-to-date old people, who grew old gracefully, and who enjoyed young people's company. Capt. and Mrs. Masury's only son was home from Brown's college, where he is keeping up the family's ability—I had not seen him in three years—and I enjoyed this meeting. My opinion is, he has a great future. I enjoyed the garden and the flowers, but soon it was time to take the cars for Andover, where we were going to the laying of the corner stone of the McKee Memorial. I have not been in Andover for some years, the dear old place, the home of my girlhood. What a magnificent school that was under the two McKee sisters! The other sister was the greatest educator of her day. Nothing escaped her notice, and she sent out from that school women who have independence of character, and women who have made their mark in life. I don't know of any boarding school in Massachusetts that has done so well by the young people under its care. When I was without a mother, and my father decided upon Abbot Academy because of the great ability of Miss McKee, I would say here that he made no mistake in his choice. If I have been of any service to others and have been of any use in this world, I owe all to Miss McKee of Abbot Academy. She did the earliest training, and made it easier for Prof. Green of Oread College Institute, Worcester, whose school I attended after I left Andover. Davis hall, where I lived, has been taken down, and this new memorial hall, a brick building with brown stone facing, is going up in its place. It is to be large and spacious, and I stood and looked at those beautiful young girls, all in white, who stood near the corner stone, and occasionally sang, and wondered what their future was to be. Mrs. Masury and Mrs. Fowler are Abbot Academy girls. After the corner stone had been laid we walked to the old church—I remember it so well—and listened to a sermon, and saw the graduating class receive their diplomas. We then returned to Draper hall, and had a fine lunch, full and plenty of everything. Good, kind Mr. Draper was there, looking just the same, golden years well spent. What a splendid gift Draper hall was, as fine a building as one would see at any college in the country.

If any one is looking for a fine boarding school for a young lady they could not do better than select Abbot Academy. After the lunch we went out for a drive to see the town, and it was well worth seeing. The trees were as fine as they are in Groton, and there are many estates with handsome houses and well kept lawns. Many women of large fortune live in that town, and enjoy the refined association of cultured and educated people. Of all places for a family to live in, that have children to educate, is Andover, Mass.

DEATH OF MRS. GRANT.

Mrs. Fannie Fuller Grant, widow of the late Benjamin P. Grant, and with one exception, the oldest lady in town died at her home, 52 Lowell-street, at 11.45 o'clock Sunday night aged 93 years, 28 days.

Mrs. Grant's health had been gradually failing for several months. Up to her last illness, however, she had enjoyed fair health, and had been very active for one of her age, engaging in fancy work, and other little tasks up to within a few months of her death. The deceased was a native of North Andover, being the daughter of Timothy and Susanna Farnham. Her father responded to the call to serve his country in the American revolution, and consequently Mrs. Grant was a real daughter of the American revolution. She was recently elected to membership in Samuel Adams chapter, D. A. R. of Methuen. The house in which the deceased was born is still standing, and is over 200 years of age, it is said. She lived in North Andover 45 years, removing from there to Andover, gentle to Ballardvale. She came to Methuen in '63, and has since lived here.

She was the last of a family of 12 children. Three others lived to be over 80 years of age. Mrs. Grant's husband died several years ago, aged 82 years. The near relatives consist of one daughter, Mrs. Lucy Mann, with whom she lived, one son, Varnum Grant of Lawrence, one grandchild, and three great grandchildren, besides 25 cousins.

Mrs. Grant retained her faculties remarkably up to the time of her death. Her long residence here, and her gentle Christian character had made for her a host of friends to mourn her loss. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and before her advanced age prevented, she was a regular attendant at the services. The funeral will be held next Wednesday afternoon at the late home at 2 o'clock. Burial will be in Walnut Grove cemetery.

SALLS-LIBBY WEDDING.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place Wednesday at Gleason Memorial church, when Miss Carrie L. Salls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Salls, and one of Methuen's most popular young ladies, became the bride of Burton W. Libby, a prominent young man of Lawrence.

The church, where the ceremony was performed, presented a pretty appearance with its decorations of palms, ferns and daisies. Between 300 and 400 invitations had been issued, and the church was filled with friends long before the hour set for the nuptial. From 7.30 to 8 o'clock Miss Georgia B. Easton, who officiated as organist, rendered a recital.

The bride looked very beautiful in a gown of liberty silk over silk. She carried bride roses, and wore a bridal veil. The bridesmaids were Misses Daisy Salls, Grace H. Brown, Anna Remick and Bertha Houston. They were gowned in white material, and carried pale pink sweet pea and maiden hair ferns. The groomsmen were Raymond Libby, a brother of the groom. After the ceremony the bridal party left the church to the joyous strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, and were driven to the bride's home on Stevens street where a reception to relatives and intimate friends was held.

The ushers at the church and at the house were J. Chester Salls, Charles Cooper, Carl A. Salls and Nathan Taylor Morse, and Mrs. Libby were assisted in receiving by Mr. and
